

Handwriting practice grid on blue-lined paper. The grid consists of 14 rows and 14 columns of squares. The first four rows contain tracing exercises for diagonal lines, with the number of lines per row decreasing from 4 to 1. Each tracing exercise includes a solid black line with a blue arrow indicating direction, followed by a dotted line for tracing. Below the grid, there are 14 rows of individual diagonal lines for independent practice, starting with 6 lines in the first row and decreasing to 1 line in the 14th row. The lines are solid black with blue arrows showing the direction.

